THIRTY-NINTH.

The 29th Battalion will shortly be leaving us. The actual day of their departure is not yet definitely known; and when it is no public announcement of the fact will be disclosed. It is obvious to all that the publication of the movement of troops is not advisable; and the Press is quite ready to fall in with the wishes of the Censor Department in withholding such information. But, it is almost superfluous to say, we shall be sorry to see the khaki-clad soldiers disappear from our midst, and we shall follow their movements when they leave Belleville with the greatest interest. Coming from all parts of the country, they will be away for a time their home; and when they get to the front we shall watch with sustained interest all the actions in which they are engaged.

We have every confidence that they will prove themselves worthy of the Dominion they will represent, and if they show the same valor in the field as the boys who have gone before them we shall have every reason to be proud of their achievements. The inhabitants of Bellemeade are delighted that the Battalion should have made the city a centre for mobilization, and are showing in every way they possibly can their appreciation of the loyalty and self-sacrifice they are making on behalf of their country and Empire. Senator Corby stated at a meeting last night that he knew of one officer who was giving up a position of $8,000 a year to go to the front, and this is only one instance of the splendid sacrifice which is being accomplished by men of all ranks.

It was a happy idea, which induced those in command to give the school children an opportunity of seeing the soldiers march past; it is a thing which they will never forget and which will live in their memory. The children of the Battalion will be formally presented to the Battalion; and last night a meeting was held at which it was decided that the children should be allowed to wear the equipment of the officers' mess. The Battalion being raised for the special purpose of war is not equipped with the ordinary equipment which is required for peace would possess. The intention of the inhabitants is to provide the Battalion with these necessities, which are not to be taken out of the pockets of the officers themselves. It is a grateful tribute to the high regard in which they are held by the community. It is intended that the children should be equipped as only slightly recognisable as the pluck and loyalty they are showing in sacrificing the comforts of home for the strenuous life of a soldier on the front. It is intended that they will doubtless be raised without any difficulty; and will be presented with the best services of the people of the community. The Battalion is a safe return for the 70th Battalion.

GERMANY AND SCIENCE. In the "Quarterly Review" Sir John Elliott, the author of the new History of the Catholic Monarchs, and the History of the Catholic Monarchs, the eminent Spanish scholar, has an article which tends to the same conclusion, that the German Renaissance was the result of the pre-eminence in the field of sciences and letters of the German Renaissance. Their rapid success in trade, Sir Wm. Ramsay declares, has been due in part to excellent organization of their "Kultur"—and in part to the important fact that their individual efforts have been officially subsidized. Their commerce, like the army, has been supported by the state. Thus the plan has been to encourage, in a manner similar to that of the American woolen industry carried on outside Germany, heavy import duties are imposed on the article which they desire to manufacture; bounties are given on the export of the article; freights are reduced on its carriage and the ships which convey it to foreign countries are subsidized. In this manner the industry is made unprofitable for manufacturers in a free-trade country to compete with State-aided manufacture; prices fall, and after a struggle the manufacture is abandoned.

This has been unfortunately demonstrated in many industries in England. Since the late Mr. Joseph Chamberlain brought forward Tariff Reform all these facts have been put before the people by the Unionist party. The war has brought home to many electors—as nothing had done previously—that the careful system of organization perfected by the Germans was a serious menace to British trade. The only way to meet it by the imposition of a tariff import duty; and when the war is over the Unionist policy of Tariff Reform is sure to meet with a far larger measure of support than has hitherto enjoyed in England.

CURRENT COMMENT

The news from Russia is distinctly more cheerful. It looks as if the German-Austrian drive had spent itself and that the Russians will shortly be able to take the offensive. There no doubt but that the Russians can stand a lot of punishment and still come up smiling.

It is not often that a Canadian goes up in the air, but when he does he usually brings down something. That Zeppelin was a fine bag.

That report of the death of Sergt. Michael O'Leary, V.C., was false, and there are millions who will be glad to know that the young Irish hero is still erect and in the fighting line. May he soon have a commission.

An officer was showing an old lady over the battleship. "This," said he, pointing to an inscribed plate on the deck, "is where our gallant captain fell." "No wonder," replied the old lady. "I nearly slipped on it myself." —Everybody's.

London Advertiser: "No doubt those titles conferred by His Majesty on Canadians were all earned, but where is there the man in great Dominion who would swap them all for one of the medals won by those five privates for bravery on the firing line?"

To judge from Sir Wilfrid Laurier's declaration that the appropriation for public works this year should be reduced $20,000,000, the opposition leader would oppose any appropriation made for the purpose of providing work for the unemployed.—Hamilton Herald.

Minister of Defence Pearce, of the Australian Commonwealth, announces that Australia will send as many infantry brigades as can be raised, the country being determined to contribute the largest man in defence of the Empire. Canada must be prepared to do the same.

It is expected that Great Britain who is the banker of the Allies, will loan this year to her associates in the war the sum of £300,000,000, or $1,000,000,000. British gold financed other wars and enabled "The Tiber Little Isle" to win out against overwhelming odds. The silver bullet will play a big part in this war—Journal

By the present route the distance from Penticton to Vancouver is 481 miles. By the Kettle Valley-Merritt-Spence's Bridge route this will be reduced by more than 120 miles. When the Hope Mountain section is finished, as it will be this fall, the distance will be cut down to 259 miles. Up to date the Kettle Valley railway has cost in the neighborhood of $16,000,000—Vancouver World.

It was the iron ramrods, as Carlyle has pointed out that gave such tremendous superiority to the Prussian infantry over the Austrians, as long ago as the Seven Years' War, and it was the superiority of the German field guns of 1779 that played such havoc with the French artillery in the seven-month's war. It is a side of war which so long as war lasts nations cannot afford to ignore. Up to the present time Germany is the only country in the world that seems to have thoroughly mastered it—Christian Science Monitor.

Japan, in the number of persons who make their living by fishing, leads the world. In actual value of fish taken a number of other nations surpass Japan, but in the number of men engaged in fishing and in proportion of these to the total population, Japan leads the world. It is estimated that one person in twenty is more or less of a fisherman and that an in some form appears daily on the table of every Japanese family, in some cases at every meal. Half a million boats are engaged in the fishing industry, with a million professional fishermen, and another million and a half devoting part of their time to fishing.

The Poets' Corner

KILLED IN ACTION

Vacant is now his place
No more his dear, loved face
Still bright with boyhood's grace
Shall we behold:

Dim are the smiling eyes,
And 'neath far foreign skies.

In a red grave he lies
 Pallid and cold.
 Not by slow wasting blight,
 But in the thick of fight,
 For country, king and right
 Nobly he fell;
 Where thundering cannons, roared,
 And a fierce Teuton horde,
 A deadly torrent poured,
 Of shot and shell.

With golden pen shall frame,
Inscribe our hero's name,
In characters of flame,
On history's page;
Record each gallant deed,
Glory, the stainless meed—
That the wide world may read,

Then dry those bitter tears,
Soon life's few troubled years,
Beset with cares and fears,
Will pass away;
And ye shall meet again
Where parting death and pain
Or strife's discordant reign,
Come not for aye.

Better at duty's call,
For freedom's cause to fall
Ere grief has turned to gall
Joy's chalice fair;
Whose hopes and dreams has flown
Friend, trusted, faithless grown,
Till heaven's sweet love alone
Saves from despair.
Tho' o'er that barren sod
No gentle lilies nod
The watchful host of God
Ward ever keep;
Sound as in churchyard bed
Amid his kindred dead
Froud marble at his head
Shall be his sleep.

Weep not with drooping head,
 As those whose hope is fled,
 Rather rejoice instead,
 That he has won,
 Rest 'ere the shadows grey,
 And full regard as they
 Who bear the toilsome day—
 Till set of sun.

There does not seem to be much doubt that the kill was really the outcome of the clan system, which arose in the 11th century, when the king gathered his kinsmen around him and fought other neighboring kings or tribes. Obviously, it would be desirable to have distinguishable marks.

After a disaster to an emigrant ship many years ago, some of the survivors reached those islands. When the news reached home, the minister of a Scottish church, in which some of the emigrants had longed, prayed thus: "O, Lord, pray Thine to be with our brethren stranded in the Falkland Islands, which, as Thou knowest, are situated in the South Atlantic Ocean."

of beer in the home country of the place where the beer is brewed, and officials are prohibited from accepting bribes. The law is not new, but to date it has been almost completely unenforced in the province. A so-called temperance beer was developed, and concealed cleverly in a liquor over proof. The seizure of this liquor is described at Enns. The district inspector W. S. Blackwell is quoted as saying: "The liquor is now being going through to a man named Preston, at Timmins, which is a small town in the north of the province. For analysis, six samples were taken from the liquor, and the results were 10 per cent. of proof spirits, while the law allows only 4 per cent. to be shown under afterproof. Liquor containing more than 2 1/2 per cent. so the case is a very serious one. The liquor is a cognate and will be confiscated."

Assembly Scores Scott Government

Saskatchewan Legislature Threatens National Schools

KINGSTON, June 8.—The Presbyterian General Assembly this afternoon passed a resolution condemning the Saskatchewan Government's threat to the National School legislation, which, it is alleged, operated against the interests of the National or Public schools in that province. It also resolved that the Mayor and members of the city, the former reading an address expressing the hope that the assembly had enjoyed its visit to Kingston.

In connection with the report of the Board of Education, resolutions were passed expressing the desire that the three Western colleges should arrange a temporary scheme of cooperation in teaching and also arrange to add the colleges' management in financing through the present system. The Board of Education report recommending the reception of a number of ministers of other churches, sent on production certificates and others upon condition of taking further course of study, was adopted.

Rev. James Hollis reported for the Committee on Travelling Expenses of Commissioners to the General Assembly. Last year the expenses to the Woodstock meeting was $4,888. The Kingston Assembly of 1914 has cost $10,772. The assembly of 1915 at Woodstock will cost about $11,000. The number of commissioners entitled to sit at the present assembly was 65. The actual attendance was 61, the largest number that ever attended General Assembly.

A resolution was passed on motion of Principal Gaudier amalgamating the two Foreign Missions Boards into one board of forty members.

Rev. W. A. Mackinnon, of Regina moved this resolution: "That this assembly views with apprehension the infringement of civil liberties in the Province of Saskatchewan and the danger threatening the National schools of the province arising from legislation recently enacted, whereby the minority who formerly were allowed the privilege of supporting the National schools are now precluded from so doing and by law are coerced into supporting separate schools."

Mr. Mackinnon explained that even companies are now forced to pay part of their taxes to separate schools in accordance with their needs. Principles Graham, Moore, Jew, in accordance the resolution, said that the legislation of the Saskatchewan Government was simply a weapon placed in the hands of those who had the right of the counsel of the Church of Rome.

The motion of Mr. Mackinnon was adopted without discussion. The Church and Manse Board reported that during the year it landed in buildings 23 churches and six manse. The revenue from occupations were $11,565.80; loans totalled $4,758.44.

God's Holy War

Striking Utterances of the Bishop of London

LONDON June 10.—"God always has to let his people choose the good of the second-best and I believe with all my soul, I, Bishop of London, think that the righteous war which we know in August was according to the 'Will of God,' rather than an unrighteous peace."

This was the striking sentence in an address delivered last evening in St. Paul's Cathedral by the Bishop of London to three thousand members of the City of London National Guard. "Was, said the Bishop, 'was' a ideal inconsistent with Christianity as slavery was, but even God could only put off such evil as the morality of which it was capable. God could only educate the world gradually. The Church that Church had in itself all principles which make slavery impossible. But look 1,800 years to ahead of time. It had all the principles that make war impossible, but it would take thousands of years to abolish war, and meanwhile God has to let his people choose the Gospel of the present best."

"When I think of what Christ did for our on Good Friday," continued the Bishop, "it was very much like what our boys are doing. If I put them in Plunder. Christ died for freedom, honor, purity and love. Our boys who are martyrs for the same cause as truly as St. Stephen was martyred, who fell after his capture. If God loves freedom, honor and clarity, then I say the content we are fighting today is on the side of God and will become God's Holy War."

Warnford, V. C., Tells His Story

LONDON, June 10.—The Daily News has the following from North-east France:

A conference on the staff of a North-east French Journal, Le Telegramme, had the good fortune yesterday to meet Lt.-Col. Warnford, the very brave hero, after his return safe and sound from his splendid warfare of a great Zeppelin in the air between Ghent and Brussels. They had a little talk; Warnford was delightfully modest, and did not want to say much about his exploit which he declared just happened to him by the way "The fortune of war."

A most charming, very young person in his mid-thirties, Warnford, says the journalist in a brief pen picture of the hero. He was most gracefully observed and spoke as men of action speak, with no wealth of words. He said that three of them, Lieut. J. P. Wilson, J. B. Mills and himself, set off the night before upon an air reconnaissance. They started in the dark with only their torches to guide them. At about half-past three in the morning they found themselves in the vicinity of the north of Brussels. Coming down a little lower they were able to distinguish a big Zeppelin in the air.

"My companions, Wilson and Mills," said Warnford, "then rose a little higher until they were exactly over the Zeppelin, then one after the other they fired with their Lewis guns. They fired their mark and I saw a long flame shoot out from the Zeppelin, setting up a fire in the air. I saw a bright light, but there was a Zeppelin still in the air. I saw that three of them, Lieut. J. P. Wilson, J. B. Mills and myself, set off the night before upon an air reconnaissance. They started in the dark with only their torches to guide them. At about half-past three in the morning they found themselves in the vicinity of the north of Brussels. Coming down a little lower they were able to distinguish a big Zeppelin in the air."

"I received myself and my ammunition fired at the Zeppelin. I proceeded on my journey at an increased height. It was just 2 o'clock in the morning when all of a sudden I perceived on the horizon about midway between Ghent and Brussels, a Zeppelin flying fast at a height of about 1,600 feet. I immediately flew towards it and when I was almost over the monster I descended about fifteen metres and fired six bombs at it. The first struck the envelope of the ship and the second struck the middle of the air and the third struck the middle of the air and the fourth struck the middle of the air and the fifth struck the middle of the air and the sixth struck the middle of the air."

Five Are Drowned At Ferry Landing

Whole Family of Ontarians Perish in Saskatchewan River

SASKATOON, June 10.—At Outlook last evening, H. Thompson, general merchant of Ardath, his wife and two children, Margaret, aged 5, and Herbert, aged 4, and Mrs. Herbert Coleman, of Toronto, were drowned. The party of five had reached the Saskatchewan River at Outlook in a motor car. The approach to the ferry had not been locked, and when the car struck it again it slid away. The car turned turtle and sank in 20 feet of water.

The only body put recovered is that of Mr. Thompson. Mrs. Coleman arrived from Toronto today. Her husband is at present in Edmonton. Mr. Thompson came west from Toronto, Ontario four years ago.

LIQUOR MADE HIM TALK
Arrest Followed Strong Pro-Germ Utterances

While under the influence of liquor, Walter Schaeckel, 18 Spruce Street, Toronto, a German, made statements to the effect that he would like to have the opportunity of shooting all the British soldiers he could see. He was immediately taken into custody by Detective Pillingier, and sent to head-quarters. At present he is being charged with being drunk, but another charge will be laid against him today. Schaeckel claims to be a naturalized American, and to have a family in the United States. He is married to a Canadian, his first wife having died. He has been in Toronto several years.

HE TOOK THE CARE.

A Story of William Black, the Kerket, and Mary Anderson.

One time Mary Anderson, who was playing in "The Waters of the World" in the "Theater" in the city of New York, was very intimate with Miss Anderson, who was a very old and experienced actress. She was a woman with a venerable beard and locks that fell upon her shoulders. When Black went upon the stage in his disguise he walked about among his fellow players with unusual confidence and judgment. By the wild motions of his arms, evoked to be addressing to each in turn an impassioned harangue. The audience began to wonder who the new actor was and what his name was doing a play in which neither Shakespeare nor the stage managers ever introduced him to appear.

Presently came the time when it was the business of Pettit to distribute between another the peasant, who was carrying on the practical joke of the fourth circle, had been distributed to him. He handed to Black a large cake crowned with a wreath of green leaves, as he did so, "You take it," he said, "it is for you, and it is for you of all the wits at the supper table."

To her confusion Black accepted that it was well qualified to be a cake from the hands of Pettit, he immediately took it and ate it with a staid and serious expression. The excellent quality began to reach it, and he was so much pleased with it that he began to eat it with laughter at the unusual sight which the court will not see the actor.

South Africa's Prisoners.

Lord Brassey, who has just returned from South Africa, has given a trip which he took for the benefit of the British soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war. He believes in the ultimate fate of British and Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war. The veteran peer (Lord Brassey is in his eighties) was speaking of the Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war, and he was a wonderful orator, and a leader of men. He was speaking of the Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war, and he was a wonderful orator, and a leader of men.

There were, said Lord Brassey, thousands of thousands of Boer soldiers available in the Cape peninsula, and he was speaking of the Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war. He was speaking of the Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war, and he was a wonderful orator, and a leader of men.

He was speaking of the Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war, and he was a wonderful orator, and a leader of men. He was speaking of the Boer soldiers who were taken prisoner in the Boer war, and he was a wonderful orator, and a leader of men.

Army's Colonial Demands.

The veterans of the war of 1914-18, who are returning from the front, are being sent to the colonies. They are being sent to the colonies, and they are being sent to the colonies. They are being sent to the colonies, and they are being sent to the colonies.

They are being sent to the colonies, and they are being sent to the colonies. They are being sent to the colonies, and they are being sent to the colonies. They are being sent to the colonies, and they are being sent to the colonies.

Romano is Found Guilty of Murder of a Comrade

Mr. Justice Patterson Breaks Down in Pronouncing His First Verdict

Breaking down completely under the terrible strain, Mr. Justice Patterson, the presiding judge at the present term of the Court of King's Bench, Montreal, fell forward on his face, his feet buried in his shoes, sobbing aloud, as he pronounced the last word of the sentence condemning Luigi Romano to be hanged on October 1st, for the murder of Humberto Califforno on November 8, 1913.

Just before the sentence was pronounced, Mr. Allan Green, B.C., who had defended the accused, asked that sentence be suspended until a later date to allow him to make a request to go to the Court of Appeals to ask for a new trial, saying he would rely upon what he claimed were certain irregularities during the present proceedings.

Mr. Justice Patterson remarked that his client Romano would not suffer any prejudice if the sentence were pronounced now, as he would still have the same rights to appeal, but the Court of Appeals does not sit until the beginning of September, and he fixed the date of the execution for October 15.

RECOMMENDS CLEMENCY.

It took the jury only about twenty minutes to return their verdict, but they asked to see a London hospital for treatment. When he had sufficient recovery, he returned to the scene of battle, as an observer of the Royal Flying Corps with the rank of lieutenant.

It will be seen by the extract from his letter to Mr. Mac-Nougton that Mr. Murray believed the war will be prolonged for more than two years from the present date, and he emphasized the necessity of more men and more munitions of war. "There is a war here, and it takes up a fair amount of my time," I am writing about the country. On this point there is no doubt. The Germans become very impatient when I circle around him and "say no" to his very long time. The pleasure in forwarding the jury's recommendation to the proper authorities.

His Lordship then pronounced the death sentence, and while speaking the last word he broke down. At the same time two women fainted and had to be taken from the courtroom. The sentence and the word of the judge were translated to the prisoner by the interpreter, Mr. Vargha.

The condemned man's wife was in the corridor of the Court House when Romano was sentenced, and when the news was taken to her she collapsed and was taken home in a semi-conscious condition.

STORY OF THE TRAGEDY.

Romano was found guilty, after standing three days of the murder of Humberto Califforno in Romano's case on the evening of November 8, 1913. Califforno was shot through the left lung in the course of a public car game of cards. The defense submitted that the shooting was the act of two persons who had quarrelled with the house and quarrelled with the victim. Jumped From The Fast Express

Thursday afternoon when No. 12 Express, the fast passenger train from the west, was travelling at a fast rate in the vicinity of Montreal, it jumped from the train and was seriously injured. He is said to have been leaving his home and standing before the engine and the fast car, when the injured man and took him to the police station. It is impossible for the man to get any longer, and to avoid falling under the wheels of the train, he jumped over the side of the train. He landed in the ditch on his head and shoulders, and despite serious injuries managed to crawl to the farmhouse near Malvern. The injured man was found by a physician who attended the injured man and took him down to St. Vincent de Paul Hospital, where he is now lying.

His injuries were found to be serious and include a fractured shoulder. The injured man does not talk very much and gives but little information. He is said to be a man of name in Major. His injuries are not necessarily fatal, unless complications arise.

PREDICTS WAR WILL LAST TWO YEARS MORE

A letter from W. E. G. Murray, McGill Rhodes Scholar to Oxford, who is now at the front as an observer with the Royal Flying Corps, has just been received by Mr. John Mac-Nougton, advocate of Montreal.

Immediately after the outbreak of war Mr. Murray, the present Oxford Rhodes Scholar, went to the front as a despatch carrier. In the discharge of his duties he was seriously wounded, obliged to return to a London hospital for treatment. When he had sufficient recovery, he returned to the scene of battle, as an observer of the Royal Flying Corps with the rank of lieutenant.

It will be seen by the extract from his letter to Mr. Mac-Nougton that Mr. Murray believed the war will be prolonged for more than two years from the present date, and he emphasized the necessity of more men and more munitions of war. "There is a war here, and it takes up a fair amount of my time," I am writing about the country. On this point there is no doubt. The Germans become very impatient when I circle around him and "say no" to his very long time. The pleasure in forwarding the jury's recommendation to the proper authorities.

How Pat Folks May Become Thin

Perhaps you are suffering from indigestion or that you may have been getting on weight for years. The cause of the trouble is the lack of oxygen-carrying power of the blood. This trouble occurs in adults of both sexes and at all ages, but is especially common in children. The blood is very necessary and without any of the vitamins that are in the blood, it is impossible to reduce their weight.

Trade in Canada: Its Condition And Prospects

The C.N.R. has collected the Opinions of More Than 2,000
Representative Men

That trade in Canada has passed the period of nervous depression and already exhibits signs of a sound revival in many lines, appears to be the opinion of the majority of representative business men throughout the Dominion who have contributed their views to a comprehensive survey of conditions which has just been completed by the C.N.R. Less than six months ago, of course, the outlook was to a gloomy outlook; more than ninety per cent., numbering more than two thousand, report themselves as optimistic as far as the immediate future is concerned. Practically all are agreed that trade conditions will rapidly return to normal after the resumption of peace. A large number are convinced that if the harvest of 1915 is successful, domestic business will be satisfactory in all the provinces.

In the survey, all classes of enterprise as defined by the last Dominion Census are reported upon. The provinces have been divided into four sections for the purpose of obtaining representative information regarding the 1915 production of the agriculture, mining, fishing and lumbering industries. Country towns and villages as well as the large commercial and industrial centres have been covered, and officials of the C.N.R. are inclined to believe the views reported as frank statements of present trade and its future prospects.

Business Better Normal
The reports indicate that business in the Dominion, as a whole, is from 15 to 25 per cent. better than in 1914, on the average. Nearly two-thirds of the informants report a volume of trade in 1915, or better, than in 1914. In the manufacturing section, 52 per cent. of the informants, while 22 per cent. state they can compare present business with 1914, the balance believe business is better. The latter group is always braver when at one season than during the other. Apparently trade in the Maritime Provinces is affected least. In the Prairie Provinces, it is not nearly so bright as it was last year, but optimism is prevailing under the influence of excellent crop prospects.

Business in Quebec is slow, but apparently improving and in the future it is gradually returning to normal conditions. "Really considered," the report shows that business in the towns and villages located in well-settled, fertile agricultural districts is practically normal. Conditions in all lines report that collections in such districts are generally satisfactory and such activities have not been curtailed to any extent.

The chief falling off has been in the large industrial industry. When relations with customers showed that autumn retailers were broad to cut prices to customers because of the work and in turn wholesalers were also extended to retailers. The people generally continued to purchase necessary lines of food-stuffs and necessities in other branches of trade as usual, but dealers felt that classification were in danger of becoming discredited upon their shelves. However, as Canadians arrived at a better understanding of actual conditions, a large amount of confidence returned, and retail sales were gradually extended to take in the usual volume of business.

The distribution of orders for raw materials also exerted a favorable influence, where it was possible to obtain employment, in many of the industries. In the large cities, the credit has been extended to a proportionate extent. Collections, despite the necessary expense to the manufacturers, fairly good in the large centres, and seem to be steadily improving.

portions of the Prairie Provinces, as a result of the marketing at excellent prices, of their turn products—especially grain and wheat—has worked out apparently to the advantage of the groups of manufacturers, whose products are distributed, wholly or in part, in the agricultural districts. It is clearly shown that practice by the farmers have contributed very largely to the maintenance of output in many lines. They have continued buying their regular supplies and necessary line implements; and they have also been finding a portion of their surplus fund to the improvement of their farm properties. When the call came to extend, wherever possible, the acreage of important crops, they apparently exhibited no hesitation in making the necessary outlay for additional facilities. Meanwhile they seem to have proceeded with building plans and askers of, and double in extent, poultry varieties and building materials of various descriptions, and to be unable to pay tribute to the manner in which the farmer has stimulated the marketing and helped to take up the slack in business. The former course has been the rule for many years, and it is a popular policy in a scale greater than ever before.

The reports indicate a better position for all classes of the improvement of the position which agricultural crops occupies in the business life of Canada. There is evidence of a disposition to lean upon the crop of 1915 and to qualify expression of optimism regarding the future with the remark that "the crop is the determining factor." According to the special report by the various Departments of Agriculture, prospects of a good yield in a largely increased acreage are bright throughout the Dominion. It is a largely increased acreage and farmers have devoted more time to care and cultivation, and generally report to have this year since the growing of grain was commenced in the Western Province. The acreage of British Columbia is said to have increased 10 per cent. in the past year; in average crop per acre is harvested, the total output will be larger than in any year since the growing of grain was commenced in the Western Province. Collapsing of Building Trade
The collapse of the building trade is shown to have been the cause of a large volume of unemployment in the case of Canadian lumber and throughout the Dominion, there is abundant reason to believe that the domestic market cannot permanently hold the volume of production which is being placed in the principal centres of the industry. The situation is being met by the Government's policy of maintaining a steady flow of work to the lumbering industry, and the chief worst products of British Columbia are being shipped to the United States and abroad. Ontario exports chiefly to the United States. There appears to be an abundant demand in Great Britain for Canadian goods, this in part to the closing of the Baltic ports, and the Canadian marine provinces are expected to be beneficially affected. Where British Columbia exports of lumber formerly depended is a certain extent upon the Antipodes market, they are now attempting to develop markets in the Old Country and in the West Indies and American Atlantic coast, and the Pacific coast, and reports indicate that success is attending their efforts.

Practically all of the wood-working plants which are large users of lumber in Canada are operating at reduced capacity. Furniture and piano manufacturers report a trade as below normal, and it seems to be improving. Makers of woodware are in much the same position, but the door frame and manufacturers of building material content to a depressed state of trade in accordance with the conditions in the other lines. The shipping of materials is not so well manufactured in the Old Country as it is in the Dominion, and the conditions are much better. The shipping of materials is not so well manufactured in the Old Country as it is in the Dominion, and the conditions are much better.

Mineral Production
The probability is that the value of the mineral production in Canada this year will be as great as it was in 1914, when it totaled $125,617,429, a decrease of $11,812,000 from the total of that year. The production of 1914 was the lowest of that year. The world-wide depression in trade during the past few years has had the effect of reducing the output of minerals in the Dominion. The production of 1914 was the lowest of that year.

Munitions of War
It is evident from the reports submitted to the Dominion Government that the munitions of war which are now being manufactured in Canada are of a high quality. The production of 1914 was the lowest of that year. The world-wide depression in trade during the past few years has had the effect of reducing the output of minerals in the Dominion. The production of 1914 was the lowest of that year.

Shipyards at Belleville
The shipyards at Belleville are now working at full capacity. The production of 1914 was the lowest of that year. The world-wide depression in trade during the past few years has had the effect of reducing the output of minerals in the Dominion. The production of 1914 was the lowest of that year.

Two Giants of Power

McLaughlin Valve-in-Head Motor

DIAMOND NAME PLATE

Abundant POWER All the time

Resistlessly the mighty Niagara River pours over the Falls, its energy imprisoned and converted into a great driving power.

Resistlessly the power of all the imprisoned gas is exploded directly behind the piston in the McLaughlin "Valve-in-Head" Motor. This direct explosion of all the gas enables the McLaughlin "Valve-in-Head" Motor to deliver its mighty power—power greater than any other type of motor—and this delivery of power is the primary fundamental function of an automobile motor.

Introducing McLaughlin 1916 Models "EVERY ONE A SIX"

This is the year of "Sixes" and in presenting our complete line for 1916—"every car a six" we do so conscious that the element of excitement is eliminated. Prolonged and severe tests under most stringent conditions, conclusively proved that the six-cylinder car, as built by us, is the embodiment of the latest in automobile construction. We make this statement with all the weight of our 45 years of manufacturing experience.

Each "McLaughlin-Six" expresses individuality in its beauty of design and finish, and on inspection of the seven exquisite models will convince any person that his requirements can be thoroughly satisfied.

And yet, owing to the vast increase in our production with consequent economy in our manufacturing schedule, we are able to offer a greatly improved car at a greatly reduced price.

Story of the Flattery Land Recalled by London Barriesters.
As a well known fact, it can be remembered a gang of foreign private and military men, who were in the city of Belleville, Ontario, in 1841, when the Old Belleville was a small town. The story is told in a book by the late Mr. J. H. P. Lee, who was a resident of Belleville at the time. The story is told in a book by the late Mr. J. H. P. CANADA AND THE NEW CABINET.

We have not yet reached the period when the formation of an Imperial Parliament is practicable. That is a matter to be decided later. Mr. Gladstone for the time and distant future. But the fact that Canada will have an indirect representation in the new Imperial Government should not be overlooked. We have before expressed the opinion that the inclusion in the Cabinet of Lord Lansdowne, as a source of immense strength to the Government. The arduous duties which have confronted Sir Edward Grey in his position as Foreign Secretary have had an injurious effect upon his eyeight, and it has been found imperative that he should retire—at least for a time—from the onerous office, Lord Lansdowne, who has but recently recovered from a serious illness, with patriotic spirit consented to share his services at the disposal of the Government.

In the last London Administration Lord Lansdowne filled with distinction the position of Secretary for Foreign Affairs. His wide experience and mature judgment were regarded as a valuable asset to the present serious position of affairs. The foreign policy of former Liberal Governments has been at its weakest point. This was naturally exhibited during Mr. Gladstone's last Administration, when the Liberals were seeking office, and he got the plainest of saying that, if returned to power they would follow the same foreign policy as that initiated by their predecessors. It is due to Sir Edward Grey to say that, on the whole, he has faithfully carried out this promise, and that the Liberal Government received less criticism from the Opposition than any previous Government. That Lord Lansdowne is now assisting at the Foreign Office is a matter of particular satisfaction to Canada, for he has his residence in Canada he was a very popular Governor-General; and he has the advantage to be known to the Foreign Office a gentleman who knows so well the needs and feelings of the Dominion.

His appointment in the new Government which should greatly Canadians be the selection of Mr. Bonar Law, the poet of the Colonial Secretary. He will be more closely concerned with the Dominion than any other official; and it is a source of satisfaction to remember that Mr. Bonar Law is a Canadian. Ever since the war began he has given a helpful support to the Government; and as leader of the Opposition he has refrained from seeking to obtain a party advantage, although he has had many opportunities for so doing. A study of his attitude would bring to mind of his share to even the cheeks of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. Before the terms of peace are settled it is probable that what may be termed an Imperial Conference, for Premier Asquith has promised that the self-governing Dominions shall be invited to the settlement. As Colonial Secretary Mr. Bonar Law will then be placed in a very important position. It was probably the first time that he was born in the Dominion which induced him to accept this office when others were open to him. It is a post which has a peculiar attraction for a man, with Imperial instincts, and Mr. Bonar Law to make the people "think Imperial."

CURRENT COMMENT.

Chow up! It is now certain that the war is where plans appear that May.

In the war supply business as well as in other fields of industry, the middle-class man is being played both ends.

Will it not add to the German-entire vanguard of German forces on the front? The price of the material price policy of Bryan?

You Buckle says he has an earnest belief that Italy and Austria are "other." And apparently he succeeded in his mission. The Italian army has been driven back to the Adriatic.

The Wall Street Journal, commenting on the resignation of William Jennings Bryan says, "The Nobel Peace Prize has been lost into the air, but the dream is not in the least."

Sir Robert Borden's emphatic declaration that the war is not a military campaign, but a political one, is a timely and reassuring.

The American firm that submitted the plan for the "Grand Trunk" to the Government, has been chosen to build the line.

The acquisition of Neil Nerlich, a wealthy farmer, who has been on the staff of the Government, is a gratifying evidence that the Government is not alone in the world.

Will the German ever awaken to the fact that the case? Will the German Government ever permit their gross to the world? Will the German Government ever permit their gross to the world?

German militarism, German aggression, German brutality, these are the instruments of war. The lawless in Germany are the instruments of war.

Suppose We Pared
This Goodyear Fortified Tire

Suppose we pared the Goodyear Air-Whever Tread. There still would be a faultless tire left. For the famous tread is double-thick, and the "carcass" is made of 18 standard plies with rubber between each ply. They make it impossible to have a tire from the tire.

That's what men mean when they tell you that Goodyears are built in any perfect balance. For what is the good of a heavy tread that you have to discard when the tread wears out prematurely? This fault, in many retail tires, is avoided in Goodyear construction.

Goodyear's Rule Because—
Five vital features have put these tires on top in four short years, that we found few features we control. And so this has been.

Goodyear's No-Rim-Cut Feature—
This feature is the first that any tire has ever had. It is a feature that no other tire has. It is a feature that no other tire has. It is a feature that no other tire has.

RED CROSS SOCIETIES

The story of how the Red Cross societies came into being is little known, and is well worth repeating. They were the result of a book written by Henri Dunant, a Swiss gentleman, who had been present at the battle of Solferino, when the terrible need for an international medical and nursing corps was first made known. His book, which was translated into many languages, with the result that the Geneva Society of Public Utility first suggested Monsieur Dunant to submit himself to the examination which would cope with the need.

M. Dunant suggested that every nation should establish an efficient and voluntary corps of trained doctors and nurses, together with first-aid hospitals, which would be sent to the aid of the wounded in fighting nations in time of war.

Geneva Society called a convention to consider his suggestions a fourteen nations sent representatives. The following year (1864) twelve of these nations signed a convention which made neutral medical service whether rendered by the Army Medical Corps or voluntary Red Cross societies, a principle that date the scheme has spread so widely that at the present day the only countries that have

Red Cross Society are China, Mexico and Brazil. The question of an international badge was raised at the Geneva congress and it was decided to adopt a Red Cross on a white ground, out of compliment to Switzerland, where the idea took shape, and whose flag is a white cross on a red ground. The preliminaries over, all countries began to organize, and the results are seen in the splendid work which is being done today.

It will be seen from this short history of Red Cross Societies that fifty years the principal nations of the world have been in agreement in regard as neutral medical service of all kind on the battlefield; and a badge was decided upon in order that that neutrality might be respected. In this war the Germans have shown a callous disregard of the Red Cross, and have ruthlessly fired upon hospitals and ambulances and have deliberately killed many who were engaged in succouring

A large contingent of nurses has left Canada to work under the Red Cross banner in the hospitals in the Old Land, where they will give their time and experience to the grateful and sick Canadian soldiers. It is labor of love, and Canada should feel honored that such a splendid body of women have given up, in many cases, splendid positions, to do their share for Canada and

Empire. What a tribute we must lay at the feet of the women of Canada! It is only necessary to glance over the casualty lists each day to realize the fearful toll of wounded and sick men that this terrible war is exacting. The amount of bandages alone that are used in one camp in a base hospital is simply stupendous, and besides such surgical supplies as dressings, gauze, padding, compresses, gauze wipes, etc.,

A telegram from Becca of the 12th Cavalry says: The important question of the day is whether the Government will give the Legislature of the Province the right to elect the members of the Council of Ministers on the basis of a law which would give a very real and effective voice to the people in the selection of the Government. This plan has been discussed in several special sessions of the Legislature. The Government has not yet decided to do so. I am sure that the people of the Province will be very glad to see the Government do so. I am sure that the people of the Province will be very glad to see the Government do so.

Two Deserters At Rochester

Application to Report Ftn. A. P. MacGregor, Who Is Wanted in England

Although a formal application has been forwarded to the United States Government to have Ftn. A. P. MacGregor, now under arrest at Rochester, N.Y., action has yet been taken on the application. The case is a peculiar one. MacGregor was pay clerk in the office of the Controller of the City of New York. He was a successful gambler and was paid a large salary. He was a member of the New York's day and then returned across the border. Descriptive were on his trail, and leading him in Rochester put him under arrest. He will be deported to England direct, and may then be brought to Canada, but it is unlikely that the application from the Kingston authorities will be granted.

Arrested For Deserting
Ftn. A. P. MacGregor, who enlisted at Goshen for overseas service and who was, when he joined the 1st Battalion, N.Y., for being a deserter and will be deported. For some time his authorities were watching a girl in the city who knew his address and who it was thought gave him the money for his fare across the border. This suspicion was strengthened when she refused to give his address, but she always has stoutly denied having advanced the money for his fare. He was arrested on Saturday in Rochester and is expected to arrive in the city in a few days. He will likely be tried by the military authorities for desertion.

THE VICTORIA CROSS Made Separately of Bronze from Cans Captured in Crimea

When an ordinary medal is made a steel die is used, and the article can be turned out complete with one blow of the press. Thousands can thus be made in a very short space of time.

But for the Victoria Cross there is no die in existence. Each cross is made separately, and this is as it should be, for the Cross ranks far higher than any other military decoration which it is in the power of the country to bestow.

The trophy, as it is known to the army, is a part of some of the Russian guns captured in the Crimea. It is of very hard quality, and it is weighed out to the workmen as carefully as if it were an ounce of gold.

The first cross was modeled in hard wax, and after the design was completed a model pattern was cast. This is preserved with the greatest care, and from it are made the moulds from which every other cross is made.

The mould, as is usual in all castings, is made in two parts, and the wax prepared, so as to make them smooth.

PARIS, June 17.—This afternoon's official statement of the "Union progress" was that it yesterday rendered the French masters of the valley of Fecht River, to the north of Stralsburg and near Lauch.

To the south also we have "gained ground" in the heights of the "Union progress" and along the heights, which separate the valley of the Fecht from the valley of the Lauch.

Regarding the rest of the front there is nothing to add to the announcement made last night.

Lusitania Inquiry Serious Accusation

Staff-Capt. Anderson Alleged to Have Shouted "Ship is Safe"

(Canadian Press Special)
LONDON, June 17.—When the Lusitania inquiry was resumed Sir Edward Carson expressed his conviction, derived from the evidence of two men, that the second submarine was lying in wait on the port side of the Lusitania.

A number of witnesses testified that the Captain Anderson, the commandant of Captain Turner's orders to get down and climb into the boat, shouting "Ship is safe."

Germans Not Told Of Army Losses

Have Yet to Learn Also of Worst-Form of Brilliant Artillery Exploit

LONDON, June 16.—A Rotterdam despatch to the Daily News says: "Count Bismarck, a German naval writer, is apparently getting very angry with the Germans, who in increasing numbers are asking whether it is worth while endangering relations with America by maintaining a submarine warfare. Admiral von Tirpitz has throughout been inoperative his warship against the war on the high seas. He says:

"The effects of the war are so clear and simple that those who cannot see them and appreciate them for their right value leave themselves not so weak in understanding as in character and will suffer. For the sake of peace we may remark that it is weak in character and will suffer."

"It can be recalled that more than ever the German authorities are carrying out the policy of hiding the losses from the public. The German press has been informed of the attack on the destruction of the Zeppelins there. The only announcements now made are those of the military authorities."

States May Demand Bernstorff's Recall

German Ambassador Must Leave If He Was Party to Deception

WASHINGTON, June 16.—(Special.) Spy Caught on Board Transport

Sailed on Megantic With 20 British—Allegation of Espionage

Mr. C. C. Douglas, 150 Queen street east, Toronto, has received a letter from his son, Pte. Gordon Douglas, a member of A.C. 40th Battalion, Second Division, now quartered in Hamilton, Camp, Kent, England, in which he says:

"The 20th Battalion, sailed on the White Star S.S. Megantic, and it is rumored, before reaching this side, that the British authorities had been told of the presence of a spy on board. The spy was caught on board the Megantic, and was taken to the British authorities in England. The spy was taken to the British authorities in England, and was taken to the British authorities in England."

SUNDAY'S PIANIST PUTS

Bentley Achley Did Not Like the Way Funds Were Divided

PHILADELPHIA, June 16.—Bentley Achley, who became widely known as Billy Sunday's right-hand man, secretary and pianist in the recent revival here, has resigned from the Sunday forces, because, he says, other members of the organization have desecrated what he received profit, in one case aggregating $50,000 from the payment of hymns, the sale of hymn books, and the disposition of other privileges connected with the revivals. Although it is not known whether or not the liquor interests had anything to do with Mr. Achley's resignation, it is a fact that Walter Pextley, Third President of the New Jersey Liquor Dealers' Association, has been a close friend of the former Sunday aid for a long time. Immediately following the announcement of Achley's resignation, it was learned that the Rev. E. H. Emmet, Sunday's advance agent, had also severed his connection with the organization.

THE MANITOBA SCANDAL INVESTIGATION.

The Royal Commission appointed to investigate the charges brought against the Manitoba Government by the Opposition in the Legislature of that Province at its last session, of having, in the giving of contracts and in the expenditure of money, in connection with the construction of public buildings, been guilty of not only of extravagance, but of criminal misapplication of public funds, has been at work for some time bringing to light transactions which if proven to be true, are criminal, rendering the criminals, for such they would be, deserving of condign punishment.

At the opening of the Court objection was taken by the legal advisors of Kelly & Son, the contractors, to the jurisdiction of the court, and advised the contractors not to produce their books nor to give evidence, upon which advice they acted.

Notwithstanding this protest the Commissioners opened the court and commenced the investigation with commendable vigor. A second difficulty presented itself. The principal witnesses had taken flight, seeking more congenial quarters in St. Paul and Minneapolis, in the United States, out of the way and beyond the reach of Canadian officials who required their presence in court. To surmount this difficulty, the Commissioners proceeded to Minneapolis, and there opened court, though there are grave doubts as to the power or authority of a Canadian Judge to hold court and take evidence under oath in a foreign country. Whether such power exists or not, the witnesses being unwilling to tell all they knew; court was opened and the trial proceeded, which if shown in a Canadian court of justice to be true, will probably land some of the offenders behind the bars.

The witnesses examined were V. W. Horwood, formerly a Manitoba Provincial architect; Salt, an official of the Manitoba Government, who had charge of the buildings under erection, and who appears to be the principal offender in the manipulation of and in the rendering of fraudulent accounts for work purporting to have been done by the contractors; and one Hook, another Government official. Statements made by these men were of a most extraordinary character.

Horwood informed the Commissioners that the Provincial Minister of Education, provided $10,000, to be given to Salt to remain in the United States and not to return to Canada to give evidence, and that Dr. Montague, Minister of Public Works, to use the witnesses' own words, "had him (Horwood) get into 'all letters in the Public Works Department' relating to the Kelly contract," adding "that Montague wanted him to sign a certain letter which had been prepared for him, but he refused." What the contents of the letter were he is not reported to have stated.

Hook next gave evidence, but before doing so asked for the protection of the court in a statement he wanted to make. Chief Justice Mathers replied that he would be protected to the extent that evidence he might give would not be used against him in any criminal proceedings except for perjury at the inquiry.

Hook then said he wanted to correct some statements he made on his former appearance on the stand. He said he did know money was sent to Salt. He sent a telegram to Salt, which he did not tell of in his former evidence, and he made a third trip to visit Salt, of which he had not spoken before. He took a parcel containing $8000 to Salt at Chicago on March 24. He locked in the envelope and saw the money.

There has been in the evidence so far as published nothing to show that Sir Rodmond Roblin, the Premier, knew of these transactions. True Horwood stated that "it was Sir Rodmond Roblin who instructed him to recommend a contract for $800,000 just before the last Provincial election." That might occur at any time in the ordinary course of departmental duties without knowledge of there being a fraud in the transaction. Horwood also stated that when he referred to the "proposed investigation" "Sir Rodmond" advised him not to worry over the "graft" investigation. It was only "politics and nothing would come of it." This, the reader will say, was a natural reply for a man who knows not of what the facts were, particularly for a public man daily attacked by political opponents who wanted his position.

The above is but an outline of the evidence given, which if true shows an era of political corruption that should not be allowed to pass into history without proper punishment being meted out to the offenders.

It were well to point out that when Horwood was asked in the witness box, if he had not committed "wilful perjury" when giving evidence before the Public Accounts Committee, he, in the words of the report, "collapsed," and had to be removed from the court to an adjoining room, where he remained for some time until he recovered.

The Winnipeg Telegram (Conservative organ) draws a moral from Salt's statements, and in addition says:

"The evidence shows that there was a conspiracy to rob the people of this Province of the fruits of honest government, with the construction of new Parliament buildings in Winnipeg."

The evidence shows furthermore that the conspiracy was entered into for personal enrichment and punishment of the Government in dishonest transactions.

"There is but one duty, that is to prosecute every individual implicated in this outrage upon the people with the utmost vigor of the law."

This is the spirit that should actuate and guide every honest journalist. It was the spirit that guided Sir Robert Borden when he confronted and read out of the party the men who had been shown guilty of wrongdoing in the purchase of war supplies.

Let there be no holding up in the investigation of these Manitoba swindlers. They are of altogether too serious a character to be allowed to be "hushed up," and the crim-

THIN FOLKS WHO WOULD BE FAT

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More.

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.
"It certainly are most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and say that way declares every man and woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite most ailments. This people are victims of malnutrition, a condition which prevents the body from getting food from being taken up by the blood as they should. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and nourishing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste."

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the nutritive process must be actually supplied with the power which nature has decided them. This can be accomplished by using a Fat and Tonic with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strengthening, fat-producing elements known in the medical profession. It mixes with the food and turns the food into the blood and the blood into the tissues and blood and the result effect is remarkable. Reported cases of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a few days are not so many frequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by J. S. Horwood and all leading druggists everywhere and every pack contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general debility, it is not a substitute for the food and the blood and the blood into the tissues and blood and the result effect is remarkable. Reported cases of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a few days are not so many frequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by J. S. Horwood and all leading druggists everywhere and every pack contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Sir Clifford Sifton Sued by Secretary

D dispute Over Purchase of Horses for French Government

OTTAWA, June 16.—Litigation arising out of the purchase of horses for the French Government was started here today, when Percy Shaver of Ottawa issued a writ against Sir Clifford Sifton and Captain John W. Sifton, his son, and the Standard Bank of Canada. Shaver was formerly secretary to Sir Clifford Sifton.

The dispute arises out of the division of profits from the purchase of upwards of fifteen thousand horses in the United States, which were forwarded to the French Government. Shaver claims there was a partnership, and asks the court to order that an accounting be taken. The Standard Bank of Canada is made defendant also because the business was transacted through this bank.

Shaver asks that an injunction be issued restraining the Siftons from withdrawing money deposited in the Standard Bank to their credit and that a receiver be appointed by the court to take charge of the accounts. Two districts with Louis Pellet, acting for the French Government and dated September 1914, and November 2, 1914, are mentioned in the writ.

None of anything worth is shown to have existed in this transaction. The reader must not be surprised to see that Hon. Geo. Graham and the Liberal press laying all the blame upon the Dominion Government.

$100,000 WAR ORDERS

MILWAUKEE, June 15.—War orders now on the books of the Alliance Manufacturers Association are said to total over $100,000.

A number of the engineering department of the company said today that while some of the recent reports concerning the company's war order had been exaggerated, nevertheless the company has large bookshelves that would be very profitable. He added that all the orders had been asked for from other concerns, and that the greater part of the work received by the Alliance Manufacturers Company was from the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Some of the reports placed the value of these orders at $250,000, but he said that this official statement was too high, and estimated that the amount involved was between $100,000. Most of the work is on shells.

What is Transpiring Among the Soldier Boys at Belleville and Kingston.

BELLEVILLE

The C.A.S.C. will take over the barracks which the 20th Battalion have been occupying for some time.

As Captain Webb, O.C. of No. 3 Company C.A.S.C. of Belleville, in connection with army service camp No. 1979.

The following officers from the 20th Battalion, are taking a final review of their military course under Major Thompson, at Kingston, Ont. H. Green, Capt. B. S. Campbell, Capt. P. W. White, A. Firth, S. D. D. Edwards, L. W. Hopkins, C. E. Cameron. The course will close on Saturday. These officers watched the C.O. parade and review yesterday from a position back of the exhibition point.

KINGSTON

Mrs. (Catherine) Hemminger and Mrs. (Lillian) Bowditch left for England yesterday.

R. A. H. Gallaher, son of R. B. Gallaher, Toronto, headed the candidates in the examination for entrance to the Royal Military College. He is a graduate of St. Andrew's College, a preparation school of which he entered in 1910.

The first commanding officer's parade and review took place in the barracks yesterday afternoon. At 2 p.m. various units assembled on the extreme western section of the camp grounds with 4th Mounted Rifles on the extreme right of the line. Next to them came the 7th Brigade, O.C. composed of the 20th and 20th Infantry, and ammunition columns. Then came the 1st Brigade, and on the extreme left, the 30th Battalion.

After the parade on the field, Colonel Hemminger decided to permit the people of the city to see the military assembly in the barracks camp, and the soldiers were marched across the parade ground to the 20th Battalion, and the 20th Infantry, and ammunition columns. Then came the 1st Brigade, and on the extreme left, the 30th Battalion.

$50 returned to the camp, the men showing the march immediately, and showing no signs that they had left all day over heavy manual and marched to and from the city.

THE MANTORSA CANNAL INVESTIGATION

The latest. It must not be forgotten that the evidence which has been given so far is exclusively that of enemies of the Roblin Government. Ministers themselves have yet to be heard. They denounce Horwood as a perjurer.

Dr. R. M. Simpson, President of the Commercial Association, who was also Treasurer of the party found, is now on military duty in England or France. He was charged with handling the money, and is wanted, so Chief Justice Matthews, Chairman of the Commission, called him as follows:

"Horwood's evidence before the Roblin Commission charges you with conspiracy to defraud the Province of a large amount. You are desired to attend and meet this charge. If you are the Commission will be fully duty not to extend any further."

No reply has been received yet. Steps have been taken by the Roblin Government "to secure for the Province the money that Thomas Kelly is said to have wrongfully obtained. A caveat has been placed against all the property of Thomas Kelly & Sons, Limited, within the boundaries of the Province of Manitoba." This is a move towards taking formal action by suit through the courts to recover the funds. The caveat covers buildings and real estate worth the present value of the principal part of the city, and at time about a million dollars, and if

Gossard

They Live in Front

Health and Beauty Go With a GOSSARD

THE two things which every Gossard Corset gives to every woman better health and an added beauty.

Health because every organ in body is insured against displacement through the front lacing principle.

Beauty because the lines of the figure are youthful and harmonious.

back a distance of 50 yards to some excellent cover. The movement was well carried out, but he lost three men badly wounded. Back under cover X—blamed himself for their loss, although as a matter of fact he had done the exact and only thing possible. X—"Should never have gone up there."

Sergt.: "Oh, I think you did quite right."

X: "Yes, do, eh?"

X: "I regret."

Sergt.: "Yes, sir."

X: "I'm going out to try to get them wounded."

Sergt.: "Better let me go, sir."

X: "No, I'm going to stay here and take command, and if I don't get back, hang on here till you get orders from the captain."

Sergt.: "All right, sir, but I think you're."

X: "Don't argue; do as you're told."

Flour led, he is lying in a garden close to the silent river, and some day his mother will be shown the grave of a hero.

"Think—A company sergeant-major of ours has a suspicious motion in his eyes when he tells how Lieutenant M— and it. Half a mile in the night, right arm smashed, he utterly refused to fall out and get it sewed in. Instead he ordered a box of hand grenades, and slinging them over his shoulder he led, his men the darkness of night until finally out."

Prince of Wales Soldier, Athlete

Interesting record of the high gallantry as an American

Alexander Powell, commander of the New York Tower, contributes the following interesting story:

British Headquarters in France. Along a road in the outskirts of the French town where the British Headquarters a youth was running. He was tall, slender, and of athletic build, and he was running as if he were a deer. He was wearing a jersey and white running shorts which left his knees bare, and he was bareheaded.

Shoulders back and chest thrust out, he jogged along at a steady pace, adopted by athletes and prize-fighters who are training. Now and then he would look back at his pursuers, but his eyes were not in any particular way remarkable in seeing a, really fast youth descending along a country road. You assume that he is training for a cross-country event which he is to take part in, and you are not at all surprised to see him running at a pace in a "racing" style, but for the feather-weight championship and you find that he is not in fact an ordinary runner in France, and ordinary young men in running shorts are not permitted to trot along the roads in this ill-famed immediate vicinity of British Headquarters.

Even if you travel, as I did, in a motor car, you will not find it surprising that the French General Staff for competition, you are halted every few minutes by a sentry who takes the business end of a rifle in your direction and demands that you halt. You are not allowed to pass until you have been searched, and then you are allowed to pass. You are not allowed to pass until you have been searched, and then you are allowed to pass.

Letters from Belleville Boys At The Front

DRIVER HARRY THYON

Miss Hannah Cohen, 45 hour 18, has received a letter from Driver Harry Thyon, who is following in the following:

You ask about your cousin Leo Thyon. I told you that he was in action, and as far as his hit was concerned I can not tell you more. He must have got lost when he got killed. That is all the accidents that have happened to our battery and everything about the same around here, when I wrote you the last letter. We had a hard time today ten days, and all papers here and this place here is a lot of it. We get a lot of letters here. We have got a new quarter master now, Dr. Staphors. They know well of him in Belleville. Now, I believe and myself are right here now, Dr. Staphors. We will weather here in five and they are looking for a big battle now, so you see we will be in a hot corner, but we do our little bit. You hear more of the news of the war in Canada papers than we do, for there does not seem to be any news to tell you, so you see it all the papers.

Within The Military Circle

What is Transpiring Among the Soldier Boys at Belleville and Kingston.

Belleville

Major Carlin, medical officer of the 26th Battalion, who attended a course in military medicine at Kingston, has returned to Belleville.

The 26th Battalion was used on Saturday morning by Major Thompson for the purpose of training the members of the Battalion in their drill and maneuvers.

Kingston

Lieut. Richardson, who is in charge of the detention hospital, has been given the rank of captain.

Captain Rev. Canon Fitzgerald has been made chaplain at Belleville. The chaplain of St. Paul's will be a helpmate to the chaplain, and will be able to do much good work. He is very much interested in sports, and has a football player.

There are several good athletes in the 26th Battalion. Some have distinguished themselves in running, boxing, boxing and wrestling.

THE GERMAN ATTACK.

On the 14th of March, while the Princess Patricia were in billets, the Germans, perhaps in reply to our offensive at Neuve Chapelle, made a vigorous attack in overwhelming numbers upon the trenches and mound at St. Eloi. The attack, which was preceded by a heavy artillery bombardment, was successful, and it became necessary to attempt by a counter-attack to arrest any further development. The battalion was billeted at Westoutre, where on March 14, at 6.30 p.m. preemptory orders were received to prepare for departure. At 7 p.m. the march was begun. At Zevecont the Princess Patricia met a battalion of the King's Royal Rifle Corps and marched to Dieckebush. At 9.30 it reached the cross-roads at Krusinsthock. Here a short halt was made.

THE ST. ELOI MOUND.

While it was in this position, reports were brought in that the Germans were advancing in large numbers towards the eastern end of Voormezele. The battalion, therefore, as a precaution against surprise, detailed No. 4 Company of the battalion to occupy the position on the east. Soon after 2 a.m. orders were received to co-operate with a battalion of the Rifle Brigade in an attack on the St. Eloi mound, which had been lost early

The battalion, therefore, as a precaution against surprise, detailed No. 4 Company of the battalion to occupy the position on the east. Soon after 2 a.m. orders were received to co-operate with a battalion of the Rifle Brigade in an attack on the St. Eloi mound, which had been lost early in the day. The zone of operations of the battalion was to the east of the Voormezele-Contavere road. The actual situation in the front line was still obscure. It was known that the mound and certain trenches to the west of it were in German hands. It was also known that towards the east we had lost certain trenches known to our intelligence staff as "P" and "A". It was uncertain whether the trench was still held by our troops.

COULD NOT BE FORCED.

It was ascertained in St. Eloi that

French troops had been retaken by British troops. This knowledge modified the plan provisionally adopted. The battalion altered its objective from that principally taken to the broadcast work 200 yards to the west of it. The point was reached about twenty minutes before daylight, and an attack was immediately organized by No. 2 company against trench "D." A

WHAT shall we say of The Ames Holden Co. and The McCready Co. who were the oldest, and who, as Ames Holden McCready Limited are the largest manufacturers of dependable footwear in the Dominion.

"Ames Holden" and "McCready" Shoes

—have the prestige of names held in high esteem by all dealers.

—have the reputation earned by faithful service and strict adherence to quality.

—are sold by more dealers, and worn by more men, women and children, than any other Footwear made in Canada.

—are the standard shoes of Canada today, as they have been for more than sixty years.

Most of the dealers who think of Quality First, handle "Ames Holden" or "McCready" Shoes. There is a dealer in your neighborhood who has the new seasonable styles. Ask to see them.

ON DEBITION CASE.

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 21.—John Gray, the former Presbyterian minister of Albany District, was committed for trial today by Judge Douglas, of the R.N.W.M.P., on the charge of sedition.

Several members of the Albany District and the immediate vicinity testified that the accused had stated in the Court that he was the German head of the war, that the Germans had the right to the Louisiana, and that the Indians soldiers were of the lowest kind and that their officers were worse.

Gray also told one witness that he had inside information from Admiral Latham, which if he was allowed to give it out, would prove that the British soldiers' attention were far worse than that of the Germans.

CANADIAN SHELL MAKERS REPLY TO LORD CURZON

Imperial Government is Blamed for Partial Delay—Undertaking of Shell Committee for Delivery of Empty Shells Has Been Thoroughly Fulfilled

Lord Curzon's complaint, voiced in the House of Lords on Wednesday, that delivery of shells by Canadian manufacturers was "exceptionally slow," made with a view to the fact that from such firms engaged on shell contracts as The Globe has been able to interfere. There were, however, actually delays at the outset, for it naturally took some time to put the industry on a satisfactory footing, but once those initial difficulties were surmounted, production has been carried along smoothly and efficiently. Shell manufacturing in Canada, it is being pointed out, is being conducted on entirely satisfactory terms, so far as prompt output is concerned.

While admitting that it took time to get started, manufacturers show a tendency to blame the War Office charged the preparation for a portion of the delay. In the early stages of the contract, it was alleged that orders were dribbled out in such small quantities, that it was difficult to make satisfactory progress. When once a plant has been equipped, shell-making is a continuous, run steadily and to capacity, in order to ensure the best results. This has been the case until quite recently, when the size of the order has been increased.

There is a feeling among the shell manufacturers that they should give a better idea of the requirements in order to enable them to develop production to the best possible extent. It is pointed out that when orders are completed plants are of suddenly closed down or reduced in capacity and workers are laid off. In getting the industry into running order again, much valuable time is lost. There should be a continuity of orders to provide against such contingencies.

POLITICIANS TO BLAME.

That politicians are entering into the business to the detriment of efficient production is a criticism heard more than once a quarter. Members of parliament are striving to get shell contracts located in their constituencies, and in certain cases these plants are actively hampered for the purpose. To convert them into shell-making industries and equip them with men and machinery to turn out standard quality shells is an economic waste that might be avoided by concentrating production in those plants already well qualified for the work.

It is the general opinion that the Shell Committee deserves great credit for what it has accomplished. It organized in a remarkably short time a national industry handling millions of dollars' worth of shells. In a statement issued yesterday at Ottawa in reply to Lord Curzon's criticism, the committee asserts: "The undertaking of the Shell Committee for delivery of empty shells has been thoroughly fulfilled and empty shells to a large extent have been delivered. It is forwarded immediately if desired by the War Office."

INSPECTION NECESSARY.

Further the right system of inspection adopted comes in far, favorable comment. It is pointed out that the men who would inspect the shells are loaned up a little, but all right—inspecting the shells through without the slightest delay, and Mr. Brooks, who has recently been in touch with other shell-making plants throughout the Dominion, is authority for the statement that there is no obstacle to the delivery of empty shells anywhere. At the Canada Foundry Company's plant, at the same conditions exist, as well as at the Messier-Harris Company and other city plants engaged in the manufacture.

So far as other war contracts are concerned, the War Office is now in touch with Mr. S. D. Galloway of the Adams, Brown, Co., Limited, who are making artillery barrels and shells, and are running smoothly. There was a serious, they were admitted, at the outset, when the War Office charged the specifications of the hardware parts. They at first called for forgings, but later they came along when they ordered a change to forged metal parts. This occasioned a delay of several weeks. As soon, however, as the parts were provided, there was no delay in prompt delivery, and they are now turning out their goods on time.

The situation shows improvement daily as manufacturers become more accustomed to work and their output grows more efficient. Materials are coming along steadily now and the various parts not manufactured in the shell plants themselves are being produced in quantities sufficient to render delays impossible. Incidentally, there is no part of the shell that is being made in Canada now, except the copper band.

MAKING FULL SHELLS.

Points of departure are outlined in the report of the Shell Committee already referred to. After referring to the fact that the shells are being made in great quantities, it is pointed out that there have been empty shells, the report of the committee is that the "British Government, however, has notified the Shell Committee that it is now delivering empty shells in great quantities and that the further production of empty shells is no longer required. To convert the empty shells into full ammunition involved the purchase of machinery and the establishment of the necessary organization by industrial companies of Canada. Now we are prepared to undertake the production of full shells."

NEEDS MUCH ABILITY.

"The manufacture of cartridge cases now involves problems of material, trained labor, etc., which have to be taken into the utmost ability and experience of the industry which has undertaken the work."

The Shell Committee is reluctant to believe that Lord Curzon could have expressed the opinion that the shells are not being made in great quantities, and that the progress already made in Canada is not sufficient to meet the requirements of the war.

Do as Mr. Gard

Mr. Amos A. Gard, will leave for London on Saturday, June 26, to attend the conference of the War Office, called the War Office Conference, at which the War Office will discuss the requirements of the war.

What Laymen Did

Summary of Work Accomplished at Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference

The laymen of Bay of Quinte Methodist Conference held sessions during the sitting of Conference at Ottawa and discussed some pressing church problems. It would have pleased the Ministers to hear the splendid discussion and see the fine spirit, which characterized the deliberations.

The transient interests of the church were considered and many new steps were contemplated. The outcome of the deliberations was a series of resolutions: We recommend that all the members of the church be organized as earnestly required to support the church or other envelope system in the church, and that the action is organized for the successful carrying out of a systematic plan of service for financing such church. The envelope system as the best tried and should be adopted by the church.

Attendance at the mid-week prayer service in the churches was considered at length and there seemed to be an earnest desire to secure improvement. The recommendation of the laymen was that the church should make an attempt to attract church members by giving a quarterly meeting, that three laymen in each church be a committee to help in the general work of the church by forming plans and carrying out arrangements for the church, and that attendance at prayer meetings be a condition of church membership.

The situation shows improvement daily as manufacturers become more accustomed to work and their output grows more efficient. Materials are coming along steadily now and the various parts not manufactured in the shell plants themselves are being produced in quantities sufficient to render delays impossible. Incidentally, there is no part of the shell that is being made in Canada now, except the copper band.

After the War

What to do With Enemy Settlers in the Dominion

Under the heading "Canada after the war," the following article by C. Fox-Smith appears in the Sunday Chronicle (England):

Many things besides the frontiers of European States will be thrown into the melting-pot as a result of the present war; and not least among them will be, I venture to think and hope, the whole matter of Canadian immigration.

It has been until now more or less the fashion to "throw several kinds of dirt" (as the Canadians say) over the desirability of the alien immigrant at the expense of the Britisher. I say this in no spirit of recrimination; we in England have done very much the same kind of thing. We thought ourselves broadminded. Let us hope we are all a little more sane in the future!

Look at the statistics of the Canadian Continent, whose exploits are probably even now making Canadian blood with national and imperial pride! We are Canadian; ay, but, English—British as well. In the first Canadian contingent 75 per cent. are Britishers; the later contingents the percentage of Britishers is even larger, owing to the larger numbers recruited in the British Empire.

Further, it is moral certainty that the end of the war will see the overseas dominions admitted to a share in the imperial councils. And, this being the case, it follows as a natural corollary that the British element must be increased in the fullest degree at the various nations composing the Empire.

Before the war the craze for population-mongering led the Canadian au-efforts to favor a policy of flooding the country with immigrants of all sorts and kinds, a good many of whom have the now the pleasure of keeping in concentration camps up and down the Dominion, while others—like Man- ners' own beloved Schlagintweit—continue driving about in their motors and making no secret of their sympathies. We used to be told "all these people become Canadians." But so the thing is said of immigrants to the United States!

We know how powerful a factor German influence has been in determining the policy of the United States. Can we doubt that, if the war had been longer, still longer, a similar influence might well have been traceable in the Western provinces of Canada?

There are—or were before the war—whole districts in the prairie provinces where the country was practically given over to Germans and German-Americans. In such districts an Englishman taking up land would be practically an alien and he would also in all likelihood end by being "frozen out" by the ill-will of his neighbors.

The records of the Provincial Land Departments will reveal hundreds of names of aliens who have become entitled by a mere formal naturalization to a share in the soil of the British Empire. For—mark this—the alien cannot enter into possession of his land without being naturalized; it is only on the completion of his settlers' duties that he must become a British subject.

Up to the outbreak of the war the biggest real estate office in Victoria, B.C., was a concern known as the German-Canadian Trust Company. The principals in this firm were the Counts Alro and Bodt von Alvensleben, who were able to interest (according to the Victoria Press) many big land-buyers in Germany in the possibilities of British Columbia investments, and who, on the best authority, are said to have bought extensively on the direct behest of his Imperial Majesty of Potsdam.
